FEBRUARY 1939

ANNUAL LOYOLA CARNIVAL.

The annual Carnival and Skating Party sponsored by the Alpha Sigma Chi Club of Loyola will be held this Saturday evening Feb. 18th. The committee in charge have an interesting programme drawn up and proceedings are scheduled to get under way at 7.15 sharp. The first of the post season games for the possession of the Canon Hefferman Trophy will be the opening event of the evening. Loyola, playing St. Leo's, is defending the Trophy. The teams have already met twice in the regular Interscholastic League and have each won one game and lost one.

Between periods there will be a race between representatives of Montreal West, D'Arcy McGee, St. Leo's, Daniel O'Connell and Loyola.

The committee have arranged for an amplifying system to provide music for skating from 8.30 to 11.15. An evening of excitement, fun and music is assured and a welcome to all extended.

LOYOLA-MCGILL

Everyone should remember the last Loyola-McGill game. It was packed with more thrills than have been seen at Loyola in many a day. Well! there's another one coming off next Wednesday night at the Forum, and it promises to be even better than the last. Anyone who attended the R.M.C. game will vouch for this statement. The team's passing has greatly improved and they display more and more fight in their puck-chasing each game. There's a championship ahead and the boys aren't going to let anyone stop them now. So turn out Loyola in even greater numbers than the R.M.C. game. Let the team know that you are behind them and they'll do more than their part to bring another championship to Loyola.

NOTED LECTURER HERE ON MONDAY

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Loyola Alumni Association have secured Father Feeney S.J., Literary Editor of the America, to speak here on Monday night on the "Preservation of Personality". Famed as a scholar and a lecturer here and abroad, Father Feeney is expected to draw an overflowing crowd to the Auditorium. Father Feeney, a graduate of Oxford and of the Sorbonne, is Chaplain of the Catholic Poetry Society of America and a member of the Gallery of Living Catholic Authors. Already he has four books of verse to his name, and his new play, "The Policeman in the Park", will shortly be staged on Broadway. Loyola students should not miss this golden opportunity, on Monday night.

I PLEDGE.....

We are all aware of the results attained by the Legion of Decency in the U.S.A. Their organization has been so effective that the movies today are, by far, above the tone and standard of yesterday. They are contributing to our amusement in a decent and enjoyable manner.

Following the same manner of organization and plan of attack, the Canadian Catholic Youth Union is sponsoring the National Crusade for Good Reading, which begins on Wednesday, February 22nd. To achieve success it must be assured the stalwart support of all Catholics.

The C.C.Y.U. is asking the youth of Catholic Canada to take the following pledge:

ON MY HONOUR I PROMISE:

To buy, read and circulate only good, clean wholesome literature.
To refrain from buying, reading and circulating any publication containing articles, illustrations or advertisements of an immoral, indecent, or suggestive nature.

To boycott all publishers, distributors and vendors who pander to the public by the sale and display of vicious matter.

AD MAJOREM DEI GLORIAM

CRUSADERS

The inauguration of the National Crusade for Good Reading is announced on the front page. But here, at Loyola, the Sodalities have already taken the initiative to cooperate with the C.C.Y.U.

But although the Sodalities will be the leaders, by virtue of being the primary organizations here, it does not mean, as it has so often been the case, that non-Sodalists are excluded.

Since the evil is nation-wide, the Crusade must be likewise. It can not be successful if limited by sectional or provincial bounds. It must be a National Crusade. No Catholic in the Dominion can shirk his duty.

Every Loyola student should be proud and ready to take the pledge, not as a matter of form because the other fellow is taking it, but because each one is convinced of the necessity of combating indecent literature and of promoting good reading.

COLLEGE SODALITY

The annual meeting of the College Sodality was held in the Domestic Chapel on Wednesday last. The meeting began with the Lauds for the dead, which were offered up for Pope Pius XI. Father Daly then advocated the prayers of the Sodalists for the Cardinals who are to choose our new Pope. Then followed the main part of the sermon which was concerned with Lent. The suggestion was put forward that here was an excellent opportunity to readjust their ideals and to reflect within themselves whether they were living up to what a Sodalist should be. Reasons were also given why penance should be done during this season. An example of a real penance was given, namely the Loch Durgh pilgrimage in Ireland. In comparison with this and some of the real penances done in the past by the Saints, the Sodalists were shown how insignificant was any penance they might do. They were then urged, besides giving up some luxury, to strive to correct some defect in their character.

HIGH SCHOOL SODALITY

For the repose of the soul of Pius XI, two psalms from the Lauds of the Dead were recited by High School Sodalists at Friday's meeting. After a few words about the death of John Newman, an old Loyola Sodalist, Father Daly went on to speak of the coming season of Lent.

During the course of the talk, Father Moderator answered these two questions: Why have Lent? How should we keep Lent? The first question as most of us know, is answered by saying that the Church has set aside this specific season for Her members to do penance in imitation of Christ, and thus show her sorrow and gratitude to her Founder. In reply to the second question, Father Daly asked the Sodalists to give up some earthly pleasure, but simply in order to gain some spiritual good, and to get rid of our defects in character.

The cast has already been chosen for one of the Sodality plays so please watch the notice-boards for further information on the entertainment.

Have you at home any children's books, usable gramophone records, spare rosaries, holy pictures or gold nuggets? If so, will you please bring these articles to school and give them to the Mission committee.

K.B.S. NEWS

The second official meeting of the knights was held on Tuesday Feb. 14th. In the absence of D. Conn, J. Wilkins acted as secretary-treasurer.

Along with the stamps that you are asked to bring in, you are reminded to bring in any beads, medals, records or holy pictures you may have.

For the promotion of Catholic Literature there is to be formed shortly, in the K.B.S. a pamphlet club.

The News extends sincere sympathies to the relatives of John Newman B.A. '34, who died Thursday after a prolonged illness.

HEARD BETWEEN CLASSES

Macdougall, ever the gentleman, offered his sincerest apologies for answering in the wrong vein in a recent Cosmology test. It was noted that he didn't redeem his error....

The College hockey players are thinking of supplying Don Newton with an anchor for the Bishop's game. The recent cold wave caused Don's ears to spread into a pair of small wings. It is feared he may "take off" on one of his rushes.

Cy Shaughnessy's financial wizardry recently lined his pockets with three green backs.

The Sophomore Class as a body has taken up Frank Broderick's staccato, disjointed form of speech. No wonder the Elocution standard is high in said class.

A challenge! On behalf of the College, Cy Shag and Gus Macdougall will run a College Carnival the likes of which has never been seen before.

Plutocrat Bill Gaffney has discovered disadvantages to wearing a fur coat. Wee Willie has several members of the canine race sniffing at his heels when he proceeds home.

A puzzle! When the Alumni defeated the College in rugby there was not even a report of the score.

MCGILL WINS DEBATE

Tuesday evening last Loyola faced McGill in the closing debate for both colleges in the Montreal Debating League. Messrs. Hutchison and Brown of McGill upheld the affirmative side of the resolution "That a policy of co-ordinated Empire defence is in the interests of world peace". While Messrs. Wadey and Scullion of Loyola defended the negative. The judges Mr. J. Hackett K.C. Mr. Thorne and Mr. Richardson rendered a two to one decision in favour of the affirmative-McGill University. Mr. McQuillan presided.

DRAMATICS

The dramatic society have already started the ball rolling for the second semester. A meeting was held by the executive members to determine the annual play to be held in May. Two popular modern plays were discussed but the committee made no definite decision. More news concerning the piece chosen will be given at a later date.

THE HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS PARADE

There seems no doubt in the minds of Loyola students as to the kind of Senior hockey team we really have. On Sunday last one of the finest games ever staged on Sarnia ice was a well earned victory for Loyola.

This marked the first defeat to the D'Arcy McGee team in over two years. On our squad every man played his part well and never once was there any fear that the smart McGee team would overcome our fighting, Red team.

From the first goal banged into the net by J.B. Cleary, the game appeared safe in our keeping and it was not long before the "scoreless Colleians" as the papers refer to us, had chalked up three other well scored goals to two by D'Arcy McGee. Loyola's strength lay chiefly in their back-checking, and was the factor that won the game for us.

The Seniors are out after new laurels this Saturday when they will endeavour to bring the Canon Heffernan Trophy into Loyola's possession for the fourth consecutive year. This game is the main feature of the annual Carnival staged under the auspices of the High School Boarders' Club. Students should not fail to see this game as the team needs the support of the Student Body, something which has been sorely lacking this year. This year's team is the smartest Senior High School team turned out by Loyola in many a day.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS.

All questions concerning the Chartists should be referred to Desy Firlotte who holds the monopoly on all Charters.

George Morley is hoping for a position in the Forum as timer and may be seen practicing with a stop watch at the small games.

I earnestly request all to come to the Carnival and bring their friends as it will be a huge success.

Bill Asselin and John McDougall have formed an alliance to defeat the lofty peaks of the Laurentians or be conquered. Maybe the scenery is interesting up there.

The Seniors are now looked upon with greater respect after their recent victory. Not that they weren't looked up to before.

I was informed the other day that the nickname Flash which Eddie Emberg carries came from the little light behind his net.

Come to the Carnival

LOYOLA BEATS MCGEE

As was reported in last week's News, Loyola Seniors defeated D'Arcy McGee for the first time in two years. The score was 4-2. The victory was well earned, the Loyola squad outplaying McGee throughout the whole game.

Loyola opened the scoring in the first period, when B.J. Cleary scored. A few minutes later Loyola got its second goal, Bob Brodrick scoring.

In the second period McGee opened the scoring, Wilf Hodgson scoring. Then Loyola came back to score twice, Eddie Emberg and Masse getting the goals. In the dying moments of the game Mulvane scored for McGee, making the final score 4-2 for Loyola.

JUNIORS 6 -- MCGEE 1

Following the examples of the Seniors, Loyola Juniors went to town at McGee's expense, 6 to 1.

Sam Molina got Loyola's first goal. Then McGee scored the lone tally. A little later Red Seasons put Loyola ahead. Continuing to increase their lead, Joe Johnson scored, Molina getting the assist. Then Frank Porteous' turn came, and he scored. Sam Molina scored twice to make Loyola 6, McGee 1.

McGee were never a serious threat. Sam Molina picked himself up four points, getting three goals and an assist.

IMPORTANT HIGH SCHOOL GAME

Next Wednesday in the Stadium, Loyola Seniors meet Catholic High Seniors. Loyola has to win the game to get into the play-offs. Therefore come out and support the team. Everyone's welcome and admission is free!

INTRA-MURAL GAMES

The long-awaited Intra-Mural season finally opened last Monday in the Stadium, when Fourth High "A", vanquished the Third "A" team by the score of 6 - 0. The game was an exciting one. Molina opened the scoring for Fourth in the first period, and he was quickly followed by McNichol who beat Emberg in the Third nets.

The second period was the scene of a fiery battle by both classes. Molina broke away twice more and shot the puck into the nets. Callary's rushes aided by Shaughnessy, Meagher, Toppings and the rest failed to register. Then McNichol scored his second tally and Fourth High's fifth goal.

The last period opened with a spirited rush by Third "A", Tolan of Fourth retaliated, but, Eddy Emberg and Bob Brodrick both made

MILITARY SKI RACE

The C.O.T.C. has accepted the invitation of the McGill C.O.T.C. and has entered this famous cross country ski race. The race is to be run over an irregular twelve mile course on Sunday, Feb. 19.

The course itself is a military secret and will be disclosed only at the start of the race. The contest will be a severe test for map reading as well as skiing ability.

Four teams of 4 men each has been entered, each team being headed by an officer, as the rules of the race specify. The officers who will hit the trail with their men on Sunday are Captain Royer and Lieutenants Pytlik, Labelle and Brayley.

A party of over twenty skiers under Capt. Royer left the Chapel last Sunday, after Mass, and entrained for the Laurentians and Mount Rolland in the vicinity of which two practice races were held, each race being about five miles long.

Capt. Royer deserves much credit for his work in organizing these races. These trial races proved that there is real skiing talent around Loyola. This skiing ability together with the excellent knowledge of map reading which our C.O.T.C. officers are noted for portend that the Artillerymen, who won this race last year, will be against typical Loyola competition.
